

The first day of the book fair, the students buy 283 books. The second day, the students buy 200 books. How many books did they buy in all?

- Draw a bar model to show how many books the students buy in all.
- Use number bonds to break the number of books into expanded form.
- Add to find how many books the students buy in all.